

Greenwich Historical Society

Annual Report
2018-19

Connecting us to our past,
to each other, and to our future.

The Value of History

This explanation of the essential importance of history was created by the History Relevance initiative and is endorsed by hundreds of organizations across the country, including the Greenwich Historical Society.

to ourselves,

IDENTITY

History nurtures personal and collective identity in a diverse world. People discover their place in time through stories of their families, communities, and nation. These stories of freedom and equality, injustice and struggle, loss and achievement, and courage and triumph shape people's personal values that guide them through life.

CRITICAL THINKING

History teaches vital skills. Historical thinking requires critical approaches to evidence and argument and develops contextual understanding and historical perspective, encouraging meaningful engagement with concepts like continuity, change, and causation, and the ability to interpret and communicate complex ideas clearly and coherently.

VIBRANT COMMUNITIES

History is the foundation for strong, vibrant communities. A place becomes a community when wrapped in human memory as told through family stories, tribal traditions, and civic commemorations as well as discussions about our roles and responsibilities to each other and the places we call home.

to our communities,

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

History is a catalyst for economic growth. Communities with cultural heritage institutions and a strong sense of historical character attract talent, increase tourism revenues, enhance business development, and fortify local economies.

ENGAGED CITIZENS

History helps people envision a better future. Democracy thrives when individuals convene to express opinions, listen to others, and take action. Weaving history into discussions about contemporary issues clarifies differing perspectives and misperceptions, reveals complexities, grounds competing views in evidence, and introduces new ideas; all can lead to greater understanding and viable community solutions.

LEADERSHIP

History inspires leaders. History provides today's leaders with role models as they navigate through the complexities of modern life. The stories of persons from the past can offer direction to contemporary leaders and help clarify their values and ideals.

LEGACY

History, saved and preserved, is the foundation for future generations. Historical knowledge is crucial to protecting democracy. By preserving authentic and meaningful documents, artifacts, images, stories, and places, future generations have a foundation on which to build and know what it means to be a member of the civic community.

Dear Friends,

We have had many reminders this year of why history matters and, in particular, how preserving our local history strengthens our community through a shared love of learning and pride in our shared past.

With the opening of our expanded campus in Cos Cob this past fall, we welcomed over 14,000 visitors this year to see the beautifully restored Toby's Tavern, the new galleries, the expanded archives and research library, and our new visitor center with café and museum store. Our new parking lot and handicap accessible buildings have provided improved access to both our new spaces and our treasured historic landmark Bush-Holley House and Vanderbilt Education Center.

In recognition of their exceptional work in restoring Toby's Tavern, our team, including Peter Malkin, David Scott Parker Architects, AP Construction and our Buildings and Grounds Committee, received the Preservation Award of Merit from the CT Trust for Historic Preservation. David Scott Parker Architects also received the Design Award of Merit from the New York Council of the Society of American Registered Architects for excellence in the design of the new museum and archives.

Our new campus has also given us opportunities to partner with other local organizations, including a partnership with Watson's Catering to offer our new site for weddings and other events and a partnership with a local garden club, Hortulus, provided two significant grants to expand our American Impressionist gardens and to restore the historic grape arbor this fall on the new grounds. Greenwich Garden Club created a beautiful bulb garden in the new lawn near the Tavern.

Even with the excitement of the grand opening, we did not miss a beat with our traditional events and programs, including our Sarah Bush program with local schools, Antiquarius, our Candlelight Holiday Open House, the Landmarks recognition event, and a heart-warming evening with Indra Nooyi, who received our History in the Making Award for her exceptional contributions as a corporate and civic leader. We also put in place plans for two exciting exhibitions starting this fall with the Immigrant and Refugee experience in Fairfield County CT, followed by a celebration of the Women's Suffrage centennial in 2020 in the spring.

This was a year of extraordinary achievement but also extraordinary effort, and none of it would have been possible without the leadership of Debra Mecky, her exceptional staff, our tireless volunteers, and the generosity and support of all of you.

We look forward to continuing to share our love of history and pride of place with each of you in the coming year.

With heartfelt gratitude,

Haley Rockwell Elmlinger
Co-Chair of the Board

We stepped boldly
into our new home

Dear Members and Friends,

In undertaking a capital campaign, it was immediately evident how important the Greenwich Historical Society was to the people of our community. Generous donors from throughout the town, foundations, corporations and public funding agencies enthusiastically contributed toward the $13.5 million goal, eager to create unprecedented opportunities for our audiences to view, study and connect with our history and collections and to become a vibrant cultural attraction inspiring renewed public interest in Greenwich's history and the adaptive use of its architectural treasures. As the only history museum and National Historic Landmark in Greenwich, we continue to invite our community to engage, as lifelong learners, in the ongoing process of history. Exhibitions over the past decade reflect collaboration with various communities within the larger Greenwich community. These dynamic exhibitions bring history to life and have provided depth to our historical knowledge of the African American, Italian, Japanese and Jewish communities of Greenwich and, most recently, of the refugee and immigrant experience in Fairfield County.

Greenwich Historical Society matters because we play an indispensable role in preserving the town's past, linking this past to our present and pointing the way for future generations. The National Historic Landmark Bush-Holley House and its equally important setting have now been buffered and screened from the incursion of I-95 by new and restored structures that further the Historical Society's mission while re-establishing the place that inspired two generations of American artists. Today, the new campus provides a spectacular setting for our centerpiece—the National Historic Landmark Bush-Holley House. Its award-winning design overcomes a steep, sloping site and gives a reframed context to the historic buildings and landscapes that were acquired and restored over many years, greatly expanding our view of the past and vastly improving public access to this past.

This report tells our story and recognizes the many people who contribute to our success and benefit from our collections and programs.

With deep appreciation,

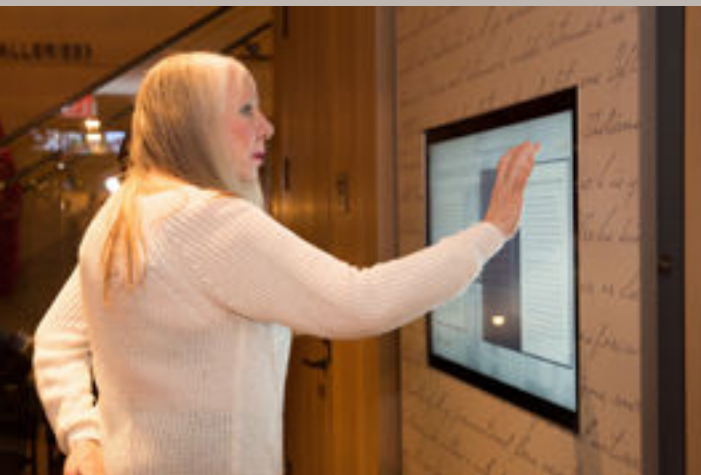

Debra Mecky
Executive Director & CEO

We educated, preserved, interpreted, documented and connected to serve this unique community.

Tribute to Bruce Dixon

25 Years of Exemplary Service

It's hard to find the words to describe what Bruce Dixon means to the Historical Society: friend, public servant, community leader, generous donor, social conscience are a few that come to mind. To many non-profit organizations in Greenwich and New York, he has done more than anyone to keep them on sound financial footings, strategic and fair. Boards rely on him for good governance, and staff look up to him for essential support. Over the past 25 years he has officially served the Greenwich Historical Society as Trustee, Treasurer and Co-Chair of the Board, and from various times as chair of the finance and building and grounds committees and as a member of the executive, capital campaign and construction committees. Unofficially, however, he has been our CFO, human resources advisor, number one trouble shooter, cheerleader, coach and watchdog.

Claire Vanderbilt first recruited him for the Historical Society Board in 1993, and what a gem she found. Little did he then imagine the 25 years of service ahead of him with only a short break from 2007 to 2009. A Harvard graduate, he had served for many years as a Public Accountant for Ernst and Young and as Executive Director for Shearman and Sterling, in addition to an impressive background of community service in New York City, including Vice Chairman of the United Way and Director and Treasurer of Cancer Research Institute. Locally, he has provided distinguished service on the boards of Greenwich Historical Society, Greenwich Land Trust and Nathaniel Witherell.

His "retirement" from the Historical Society Board in 2019 is well deserved, and he will enjoy more time with his wife Helen and their large, multi-generational families. The Historical Society is immensely indebted to him, and we extend our deepest gratitude for his unselfish and exemplary years of faithful service.

Treasurer's Report

Financial Highlights

The following presents the audited financial information as of June 30, 2019. The audited financial statements and Form 990 will be posted on our website and available in hard copy at the Historical Society's office.

This has been a landmark year of growth and expansion for the Historical Society; it being the first fiscal year that we have operated in the new reimagined campus. Through this significant change, we managed to have a steady year financially. The operating results were materially as budgeted with total operating revenues of $1.70 million and expenses of $1.58 million before depreciation and an accounting change.

Special Events revenue, including Antiquarius and the History in the Making Dinner, were slightly above budget while Program and Services were somewhat below expectations. Operating expenses were mostly as budgeted.

The Historical Society ended the year with total net assets of $23.5 million.

We all are looking forward to the coming year and are focused on increasing our revenues by fully leveraging the new campus.

Thank you to all our donors who contributed during our 2018–2019 fiscal year. We apologize for any errors or omissions. If you have any questions, please contact Laura Kelly, Development Associate, at 203-869-6899, Ext. 14.

Antiquarius 2018

ANTIQUARIUS, our most important annual fundraiser, could not happen without the support of dedicated volunteers, donors, corporate sponsors and the generous folks who so graciously opened the doors to their beautiful homes. We are so grateful to them all, and to those who attended, for making the 2018 opening night party, our Holiday House Tour and our Holiday Boutique a huge success.

We brought out the best in our community.

Kudos to our fabulous volunteers, who are deeply involved in every aspect of our mission. Their contributions of time, energy, creativity and wise counsel enable us to stay relevant as we evolve to meet the needs of the community.

Thanks to you all for recognizing the value of our town's past stories, for understanding their impact on contemporary life and for having the foresight to appreciate the enormous importance they hold for future generations.

In remembrance...

Long-time Historical Society supporter and daughter of author Anya Seton and Hamilton Cottier, Pamela Forcey (1926–2019) grew up mostly in Greenwich, Connecticut, with her mother and step-father Hamilton Mercer Chase and her grandmother Grace Gallatin Seton, a well-known suffragette and writer of travel narratives. With her brother Seton Cottier and half-sister Clemency Chase (Coggins), she enjoyed growing up on the family's Greenwich estate known as "Little Peequo." This rustic lakeside home, which survives as a private residence today, was built during the 1920s by her famous naturalist-artist-writer grandfather Ernest Thompson Seton before he left his family and moved to Santa Fe in 1930. Pam was educated at the progressive Edgewood School in Greenwich and at Milton Academy (Milton MA) before attending Vassar College, where she graduated in 1946. She pursued a career as an editor of college textbooks for Harper & Row and Holt Rinehart & Wilson. We are deeply grateful to Pamela and her sister Clemency for the Anya Seton collection in the Greenwich Historical Society Archives, which will be the subject of a biography called Anya Seton: A Writing Life by Lucinda MacKethan to be published in 2020. Her children Blyth Forcey Toussaint and Peter Forcey continue to share her interest in the Greenwich Historical Society.
