ANNUAL REPORT

Letter from the Chairman and Executive Director

The Greenwich Historical Society is proud to celebrate many remarkable accomplishments this past fiscal year that connected people to the history of Greenwich in new and meaningful ways. Following are highlights of the Historical Society's multi-faceted contributions to the Greenwich community:

- Galvanized and inspired by the growing needs of the Greenwich community for access to its history, the Historical Society's board adopted a master plan in 2015 to increase its capacity to deliver a broader spectrum of programs. An expanded campus will provide better access and ease of mobility around the site, including a new archives and exhibitions building and a handicapped-accessible elevator. The master plan also doubles the parking spaces and restores the historic Toby's building and landscape to the era of the Cos Cob art colony as depicted in the works of John Twachtman, Childe Hassam and many other American Impressionist artists.
- We hosted art and history education programs for 3,400 students and teachers that made history come alive for a new generation, and we welcomed 9,000 visitors to programs and family activities that illuminated our place in American history through lectures, art, film and music.
- We launched two significant exhibitions: Greenwich Faces the Great War, an exploration of the seminal event of the 20th century as seen through the eyes of Greenwich residents both at home and on the battle front, and Greenwich Voices, an audio time capsule that captured for future generations what Greenwich means to its residents at this time and place in our history.
- We further advanced the digitization of the Greenwich history collections so that they may be shared far beyond the walls of our archives, and our extraordinary collection of photographs, maps, books, directories and ephemera was an invaluable resource for the Town of Greenwich's 375th anniversary series of summer tours.
- Our preservation programs included professional juried recognition of five important Greenwich landmark structures as well as the formation of the Greenwich Preservation Network devoted to fostering preservation initiatives with community partners.
- And finally, we were the very proud recipient of the 2015 Greenwich Chamber of Commerce Non-profit Leadership Award.

Thank you for your generous support as members, trustees, contributors, staff and volunteers. You have allowed the Historical Society to play a vital role as Greenwich's only leading cultural organization wholly committed to preserving the material culture of the people of Greenwich. Because of you, the Historical Society now numbers among the nation's leading local historical institutions.

Warm regards,

David E. Strickland

Debra Mecky

On April 30, 2015, the Greenwich Historical Society received the Greenwich Chamber of Commerce's Nonprofit Leadership Award. The honor is given each year to a nonprofit organization or an individual in Greenwich that has made a significant difference in the betterment of the community. According to Chamber President Marcia O'Kane, "Once we considered its immediate and ongoing impact on the community and the importance of preserving town history, the Historical Society immediately rose to the top...we are all very proud of the Historical Society's ongoing education and preservation programs."

Financial Highlights

The operating budget for the year ending June 30, 2016, is break even, and with careful management of expenses and the continued support of the membership and the larger community, we expect to achieve a balanced budget.

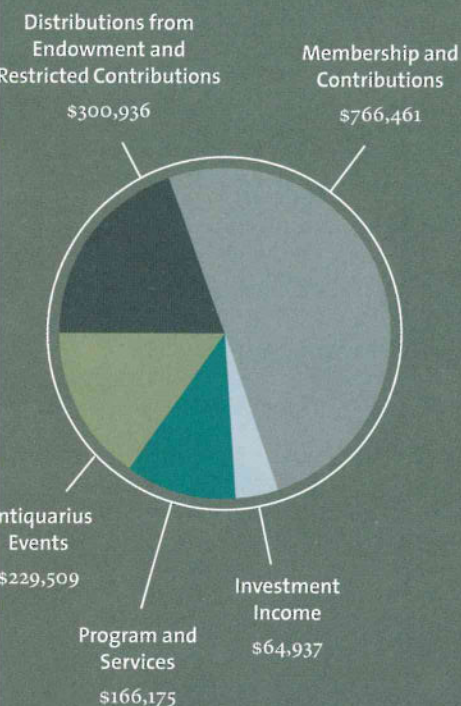

As of June 30, 2015, the investment portfolio was $5.3 million compared to $5.6 million a year earlier. For the year then ended, the total return on the investment portfolio declined less than 1%; the $300,000 reduction from year to year was due to withdrawals for operations. Due to the recent volatile market, the portfolio declined about 5% between June 30 and August 31. We continue to be confident in the investment strategies of our investment manager. The Investment Fund for Foundations, which manages $11 billion solely for the not-for-profit community. We do not anticipate making any changes in our investment policy at this time.

Notwithstanding recent market turbulence, the Historical Society is on sound financial footing and has the resources necessary to carry out its mission. —Bruce Dixon, Vice Chairman and Treasurer

2014-15 Highlights

The past year saw the launch of two major exhibitions celebrating important events in our town's long history. Greenwich Faces the Great War marked the centennial of the commencement of WWI as seen through the eyes of Greenwich citizens on the battle and the home fronts. With a full complement of lectures, musical and film programs, there was something for everyone.

Greenwich Voices, a new type of conceptual installation for us, recorded the voices of Greenwich residents as they marked the town's 375th anniversary. Recordings from the exhibition ranged from predictable to profound and will serve as an illuminating time capsule when Greenwich celebrates its 400th birthday.

We continued to host popular programs for visitors of all ages from Fall Festival to Story Barn to the Hamilton Avenue School-Museum Partnership, now in its sixth successful year. In all, we welcomed nearly 15,000 history buffs, art lovers and admirers of all things Greenwich and worked with many other community organizations to bring Greenwich history to life for all.

Preservation and Community Outreach

As preparations for Greenwich's 375th anniversary took shape, the Historical Society played a significant role in providing information, images and support for Greenwich's 375th Anniversary committee, as well as for historic neighborhood tours, researchers and nearly all of our local print and online publications. Members of our staff and board were invited to speak at numerous community organizations as we reached out to fulfil our mission.

2015 saw a renewed effort to educate the public on the importance of architectural preservation with the establishment of the Preservation Network, a group brought together to focus on specific local preservation initiatives. We hosted a full house at our Landmarks Recognition event, which paid homage to a variety of historic structures including the Riverside Avenue bridge; a lovingly preserved, family home; a historic estate; a gentleman's farm and the Greenwich Avenue historic post office. Special thanks to sponsors ACE Private Risk Services, Charles Hilton Architects, David Ogilvy & Associates, HUB International Northeast, Northern Trust, Cummings & Lockwood and to exclusive media sponsor Greenwich Look. Preservation is indeed alive and well in Greenwich.

Antiquarius

Antiquarius, an annual series of holiday events, is the Greenwich Historical Society's most important fundraiser. Proceeds support the Historical Society's education and preservation activities, its stewardship of Bush-Holley Historic Site and more. It is a vast undertaking, and we are fortunate to have the dedicated support and unwavering commitment of leadership and volunteers second to none.

Antiquarius 2014 began in early November with an elegant party at the home of long-time supporters Suzanne and Ramsey Frank, held to celebrate the generosity of those patrons and sponsors who made early and generous commitments to the event.

In mid-November Designer Markham Roberts drew a sellout crowd at a lecture and luncheon co-chaired by Catherine Tompkins, Samantha Moro and Tiffany Burnette. Roberts graciously autographed his newest book and shared design tips with a high-energy group that included homeowners and design professionals alike.

In early December, nearly 300 guests were treated to a sneak peek of the Greenwich Winter Antiques Show during a Nutcracker-themed preview party. Mother Ginger," a walking human cocktail table dressed to kill, was the hit of the night and brainchild of co-chairs Carrie Wallack, Lisa McAtee and Beth Taylor.

Fun and fundraising continued the following week with the popular Holiday Boutique, which featured over 30 exclusive specialty vendors and was chaired by Holly Cassin and Catie Salyer. The Holiday House Tour, ably led for a second year by Sandra Morgan and Laird Morgan Tolan, offered an extraordinary opportunity to visit five spectacular homes. Special thanks go to the extremely generous individuals who opened their beautiful homes to the community in support of the Historical Society.

Our deepest appreciation goes to all who worked so hard to make Antiquarius 2014 a great success!

2015 Trust Event

Trust donors are recognized at a special event each spring for their significant contributions to the Greenwich Historic Trust, which supports the study of Greenwich history through exhibitions, educational programs, preservation initiatives and the Historical Society library and archives. The fund also supports the stewardship and interpretation of Bush-Holley House, Greenwich's only National Historic Landmark, and the cultivation of its Impressionist-era landscape.

On May 25, 2015, the Historical Society recognized 80 leadership donors for their especially generous support at an event graciously hosted by (board member) Jessica and Drew Guff. The Guffs' home, dubbed the Florence Rockefeller Sloan House and built in 1928, was an especially fitting site for this group of ardent preservationists and history lovers. Guests were treated to informal remarks by lecturer Karin Crooks, who discussed the home's builder, Quentin Twachtman, and its designer, J. Alden Twachtman, both sons of John Twachtman, American Impressionist artist and founder of the Cos Cob art colony.

Remembering Brooks Hoffman...

We note with sadness the passing of John Brooks Hoffman, M.D. on June 11, 2015.

Dr. Hoffman joined the Greenwich Historical Society's board of trustees in 1986, during construction of the current archives building. He served as vice president of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees from 1987 to 1990, and at the end of his term was named as an honorary member of the board for his extraordinary efforts to raise funds for the completion of the library and archives.

As a collector of presidential autographs and early Americana, Dr. Hoffman continued to donate archival treasures over the course of many years to the Historical Society as well as to the Chapin Library at Williams College and to Blair Academy, where he also endowed a chair in American History. When he wasn't studying history, he found time to deliver over 3,500 babies as a distinguished obstetrician and chairman of the OB/GYN department at Greenwich Hospital. He will be missed by all whose lives he touched.

Greenwich Historical Society

Explore our colorful past

IF YOU LIVE OR WORK
IN GREENWICH,
YOU HAVE A STAKE
IN THE GREENWICH
HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Greenwich enjoys a truly colorful past. From its precarious position on the Connecticut frontier during the American Revolution to its later reputation as a Gilded Age enclave for the rich and infamous, our town has long been associated with well-known individuals and pivotal events in the arts, business, journalism and politics.

The Historical Society contributes immeasurably to the cultural vitality of this unique community. We serve as your bridge from the past to the future by offering innovative programs, exhibitions and preservation initiatives. The Bush-Holley Historic Site, which boasts a bucolic period landscape, was home to one of the first American Impressionist art colonies and encompasses an extensive research library and archives chronicling all things Greenwich, the Vanderbilt Education Center and the 1805 Storehouse Gallery with rotating exhibitions and a museum shop.

At the Historical Society, you can attend fascinating lectures, enjoy hands-on family and educational programs, walk back in time on docent-led tours of Bush-Holley House and be captivated by live storytelling programs.

One visit and you'll understand the value of supporting this invaluable Greenwich resource.
